

DriveAbility[®] Consulting

Maximize your telematics investment
with expert advice

Program
design

Project management

Product optimization

Insurers must maximize the return from their telematics investment. Whether you have an existing usage-based insurance program or are just entering the market, the DriveAbility Consulting team can help you optimize your telematics-based products, services, and pricing models. With DriveAbility Consulting, you get independent guidance and best practices developed over more than 50 telematics implementations on six continents. We can help you get to market faster with an effective telematics program that gets real results.

Learn more at octousa.com/driveability-consulting

Why DriveAbility Consulting?

DriveAbility consulting services allow you to leverage decades of combined experience to build a telematics program based on best practices and proven results. Having developed the market-leading DriveAbility score, implemented over 50 usage-based insurance programs, and consulted on the most challenging problems facing insurers today, DriveAbility Consulting provides the best foundations for your initiative.

- Global depth and breadth, with local knowledge to support your initiatives
- Experts with many years of individual experience in insurance telematics
- Qualified insurance practitioners and thought leaders in the industry
- Objective and independent advice for any decisions you make on technology or solutions

Knowledge & pricing

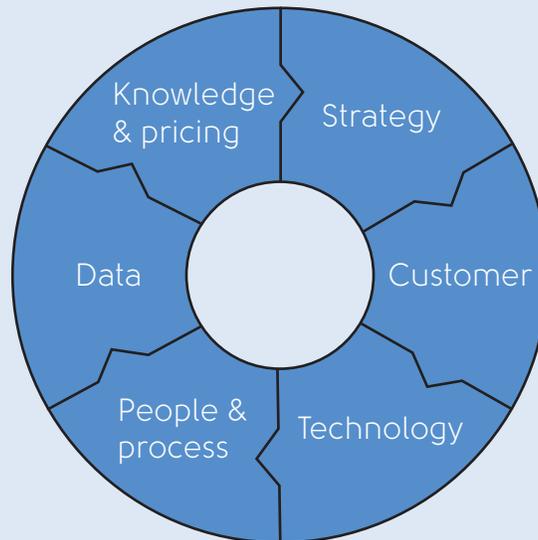

Improve pricing, underwriting, and retention processes with insights into data usage and driving behavior.

Data

Identify and collect the data you need now and for the long-term using new approaches for processing and managing data.

People & process

Use best practices for developing processes and training people to ensure the success of your program.

Strategy

Define your strategy, identify tactical actions, and leverage best practices to ensure your program meets your goals.

Customer

Build a customer proposition in line with your strategy supported by consumer insights and competitive intelligence.

Technology

Leverage our expertise in identifying and vetting new technologies to maximize the benefit from your initiatives.

New program consulting

- Go to market quickly leveraging best practices from over 50+ projects
- Benefit from active program support with experienced project managers
- Explore new uses for telematics data in insurance, auto, and other industries
- Gain access to tools and templates designed to fit any project methodology

Program optimization

- Identify and use of best practices for sales, marketing, and policyholder retention
- Realize operational efficiencies and improved processes using best practices
- Optimize claims processes with telematics
- Improve risk assessment potential leveraging our analytical experts